President's Report to AGM 2016

It's only since I've been President that I have fully realised the contribution and support given by individual members to provide Mana U3A with the wide range of activities that keep us all "off the streets".

In this, my first annual report, I would particularly like to thank Carolyn Rait who acted for me while I was away for a month and Geoff Cassells who keeps our website alive, plus all the committee members who have made my year such an enjoyable one.

We must all acclaim, Sherwood Young, Trevor Cudby and Derely Jaye who are leaving the team after years of time and effort that have contributed to our success. And we have had a successful this year with some seminars and new activities added to our schedule, such as Futuring, art appreciation, theatre visits, and the resurgence of a new book group and a new writing group.

It would also be good to continue with the 'one off' seminars in the next year's programme. We do need ideas though for seminars and for speakers at our quarterly meetings to come from members. You don't have to be on the committee to contribute. But if you do want to join the committee for about four meetings a year, please indicate this today or contact me later for information.

The teaching of 'how to write' is not an aim for this dedicated group but very positive mutual encouragement and support. Those not currently working on a project of their own enjoy the challenge of writing stories on a subject sentence or collection of words chosen at random from a dictionary each month - some of the results of these assignments have been of a high calibre.

If you wish to stay in the group or join please ring Janet and leave your name and phone number.
